WACO, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1917.

NUMBER 141

DAME FASHION WACO'S GUEST, SAME GAY GIRL

Bands Welcome Her Arrival and Street Is Jammed With Sightseers.

AUTO PARADE ON AUSTIN

Machines in All Their 1917 Glory Move in Motor Array Last Evening.

Dame Fashion arrived last night to pay her respects to Miss Waco, erstwhile participating in the city's annual automobile parade, the initial event of the spring style show.

Bands played lively airs to welcome her entrance to the city. The streets had been Broadwayed for the event, and to cap the climax of her arrival windows of Waco's business district were unveiled to disclose the gorgeous offerings of the gay old lady who has ruled the earth since frost brought the first fig leaf to the ground.

Waco's automobile parade began its march down Austin street shortly after 7:30 o'clock with the sidewalks jammed to store entrances with sightseers. It was a presentation of the last word in motor car design. Sedans, roadsters, touring cars, runabouts and trucks, headed by a brilliantly lighted Hudson Super Six bowed their radiators to the waiting throng.

An Oldsmobile poked its nose from left to right, a Paige nodded good evening, its hood radiant with hospitality, and so on down the long line. Not an American standard make was omitted from the representation.

The parade concluded, the cars moved to Sixth street between Franklin and Austin. The street had been washed and special lights prepared for an open-air automobile display. Windows of the various stores presented a scene of rare beauty, exhibiting the latest fashions for the lady of the spring of 1917. Few were the stores that failed to make extraordinary preparations for ushering in the annual fashion event.

On the style show program for today and tomorrow will be special displays at the stores, some of which will offer entertainment for the visitors in addition to the exhibit of the latest styles of the season.

A brilliant social fete at the Hotel Raleigh will end the style show Thursday night. This affair will be the formal opening of the Raleigh's new ball room.

Members of a committee that arranged the style show week are E. L. Miller, T. W. Miller, E. A. Miller, W. V. Crawford and J. W. Carlin.

VOTE FOR THE BONDS.

WEDNESDAY'S bond election is of more interest to Waco than the mere matter of authorizing the issuance of $75,000 in bonds. It will register whether Waco is to go ahead or stand still.

The $25,000 Fifth street paving bonds will provide a decent roadway from Waco's business district to the south. It is this territory which must have an adequate business entrance if it is not to be deflected to Temple.

There are 8,000 school children who are entitled by right to a healthy outdoor life. The proposed $25,000 Cameron Park swimming pool is but a part of what they should be given. Proper provision for the playtime of children will more than be paid for by what the city will save in law enforcement and doctors' bills.

The good faith of Waco has been pledged to take over certain sewers built under city supervision by private property owners. A vote against these bonds is a vote to repudiate the city's good faith. The $25,000 in this issue provides additional money for sewage expansion as the city grows.

The News advises its city readers to vote for all of these bonds. The tax rate will not be raised as enough bonds are being retired to provide for this $75,000 total within the bond limit.

WACO ATTORNEY FINED $100 FOR CARRYING PISTOL

Y. M. B. L. After Road from Palestine to Waco

An effort to thoroughly undergird the proposed Palestine-to-Waco railroad will be made at the meeting tonight of the Y. M. B. L. directors. It was learned yesterday afternoon. Directors probably will give very serious and earnest attention to the matter, as the organization has fostered the movement from the beginning, and representatives Poage, Fitzpatrick and others think that with one big effort Waco can be made the point of objective for the road.

Dame Fashion's Review From Eighth Street to the Square

Gorgeous in Its Loveliness With Burst of Khaki-Kool and Yo San

By Anne Austin. "The thing that struck me from every angle was the pretty oriental trimming, in beads, metals, both gold and silver, and in silk threads. I suppose you have heard grandmother speak of the Paisley shawls of her time? Won't she be tickled when she finds that Paisley has come back, now as beautiful trimming effects in linings, colors and chiffon bandings in hats, parasols, shoes, afternoon frocks, coat suits and goodness knows what. Embroidery is everything this season, and my dear, don't get a thing without it, or you'll be sorry."

"And be sure to get something in chartreuse, with white kid or ivory boots, for they are the only thing, most. An the prices are so reasonable that even Henry consented to smile. He has half promised me a beautiful afternoon frock in gold, or chartreuse, it is so hard to decide between the dresses. If it were not for my impossible complexion I should lean strongly toward turquoise or Shadow Lawn, or even that stunning rose color, Shannon Rose. I think it is, but Henry says he will leave home if I try anything stronger than honey-gold. That name seemed to please Henry, so I tried to keep him pleased with myself until we had decided on boots and a hat. Shall it be a big hat or a little hat, a fuzzy hat or a tailored?"

"The windows were really the prettiest I have ever seen, and we just stood and gaped at the flowers that really bloomed in the trellised gardens while we snuggled up in our furs outside."

FERGUSON TO BE GRILLED ON LATE CHARGES

Speaker Fuller Names Nine Members to Investigate Davis Accusations.

FIRST SESSION LAST NIGHT

Investigation Will Begin Next Wednesday Morning, Says Committee.

Special to the News. Austin, Tex., March 5.—A committee of nine members tonight was named by Speaker Fuller to investigate charges against the governor contained in a resolution by Davis of Van Zandt looking to articles of impeachment. The committee includes Bryan of Midland, chairman; Carlock of Fort Worth, vice chairman; Pope of Corpus Christi, secretary; Fly of Gonzales, Thomason of El Paso, Bryant of Haskell, Dan McMillan and Whitehurst of Grayson county, and Barry Miller of Dallas.

The committee held its first session tonight, elected its officers and announced it would begin the investigation Wednesday morning. The governor, it was announced, has retained former Senator W. A. Hanger of Fort Worth as counsel. The complainant, Davis, will be represented by H. M. Crane of Dallas, former attorney general of Texas. Davis suggested either Mr. Crane or former Governor T. M. Campbell of Palestine, but objection was made to the latter on political grounds.

The investigation resolution was fought all afternoon in the house, Moore of Palestine, Williams of McLennan and others arguing that the Davis resolution was similar in substance to the Olanion resolution which had been defeated, and could not be considered again this session. The proposition to rule out the investigation on constitutional grounds was defeated 64 yeas and the resolution was adopted.

BRITISH SUCCESSFUL ONCE MORE ALONG SOMME WAR FRONT

GERMANS HAVE NOT ASSUMED POSITIVENESS IN RETREAT IN ANCRE REGION.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press, British Headquarters in France, via London, March 5.—The characteristically laconic reference in an official communication regarding enemy artillery activity south of the Somme has been the British method of publicly announcing the fact that they had taken over still more of the western line and that the meeting point of the British and French troops now has been established well below that small but famous river. As a matter of fact the Somme is a most disappointing stream to have had such a large share in the world's history. It wanders rather aimlessly from pool to pool in the flat lowlands, is occasionally directed into canals, turning hundreds of mill wheels and then slips idly along into the sea.

The new territory defended by the British troops just north of the river however, is extremely interesting. It is deeply shelled scarred but there is not the same chaos as was found about Pozieres, Beaumont-Hamel, Metz and other villages which have been absolutely obliterated by the war. Such places as Plaucourt, Dompierre, Asseillers and Estrees behind the new section of the British line still show evidence of having once been habitations. Some large farm buildings and factories form most picturesque ruins.

Dompierre cemetery is a remarkable reminder of the ravages of the war. Graves and strong underground vaults have been blown open by the relentless and remorseless shell fire to such an extent that the aspect of the cemetery resembles some fantastic idea of the physical resurrection of the dead.

Here's Another Denial: This Time Von Eckhardt

By Associated Press. Mexico City, H. von Eckhardt, the German minister to Mexico said that if Dr. Zimmerman, the German foreign minister, had sent orders to him to endeavor to embroil Mexico and possibly Japan in a war with the United States the orders were never received and therefore were not acted upon. The minister had previously denied that he knew anything about the instructions.

Many volleys were fired, clearing the crowded streets of Chinatown of pedestrians almost instantly. Only one bystander was hit. Several arrests followed the shooting here and in Oakland, where one Chinese was killed.

Wilcox, chairman of the republican national committee, in a statement tonight on the senate filibuster that defeated the armed neutrality bill, said: "Every senator should have stood by the president in this trying crisis. It must have been a keen disappointment to the patriotic people of this country that twelve senators should filibuster on a measure so important to the honor of the nation."

SENATE DEMOS CAUCUS TODAY ON SITUATION

Extra Session of Senate to Begin Monday—Confirmations Chief Work.

BREAKERS ARE SEEN AHEAD

Not Improbable That Senate Will Be in Session Until Summer Time.

By Associated Press. Washington, March 5.—With President Wilson's demand for change in senate rules to make impossible in the future such a filibuster as the one by which a handful of members defeated the armed neutrality bill fresh in their minds, senate democrats will caucus tomorrow on a program for the special session. The session, called primarily to pass upon appointments to office, began formally today and will get down to business tomorrow.

Senator Owen, who has been the chief proponent of a limited debate rule for many years, is prepared to bring the subject of cloture before the caucus and thirty-three senators, most of them democrats, have signed an agreement to support the rule he proposes.

If the caucus decides to stand behind this proposal and make it the chief issue of the session, the senate may spend the summer in Washington instead of disposing of its work in a few days as usual. Many senators who have participated in similar fights in the past believe it would be more difficult to get the senate to agree to a limited debate rule than it would be to get a declaration against Germany or to pass the armed neutrality bill that died yesterday, because the rules say a senator cannot be taken from the floor when he wishes to keep on talking. The highest present asset of the president and the public opinion statement denouncing the present A. S. is expected to arouse. Never before in the history of the many suggestions that have been made for such a change has a president openly aligned himself in its favor nor has public attention generally been called to what he considers a fault in the senate's method of procedure. The president is expected to continue his insistence for a change but even optimistic champions of cloture think it will be difficult to keep public interest centered on such a question.

ENGLAND WILL NOT WITHDRAW TROOPS

CRITICISM OF SALONIKI CAMPAIGN ANSWERED BY BONAR LAW MONDAY.

By Associated Press.
London, March 5.—Replying in the house of commons to "Colonel Churchill and other critics of the Saloniki expedition, including John Dillon, who asserted Rumania had been forced into the war by England against her will and against the advice of General Sarraill, the French commander, and Russian generals, Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, while refusing to reveal anything that Germany would like to know, intimated that the government had no intention of withdrawing the troops from Saloniki. He said that England could not act independently and had to consult her allies. If the expedition were withdrawn Greece would be open and the whole Balkan peninsula would be in the hands of the enemy's enemies.

With regards to the demand for a secret session of parliament to discuss the matter, Mr. Bonar Law declared the government could not frankly discuss the expedition, even in a secret session. The allies now have a common policy, the main object of which was to insure that if their enemies advanced against them, the entire powers should not run the risk they ran a few months ago of being attacked from behind. No threats, he asserted, were used to induce Rumania to enter the war.

MILWAUKEE MAN'S EYESIGHT FAILED

Used One Bottle of Plant
Juice and Claims That He Is Now Feeling Fine.

It is the engine-room of a battleship that is the most strongly protected and most carefully watched and tended, for it is the motive center of the mighty leviathan that propels far and wide. The engine-room of a battleship may be aptly likened to the stomach of a human being. It is the seat of the power, and like the engine if it becomes injured, the rest of the body suffers also. Unlike an engine, though, many let the stomach get impaired and take no measures to repair it. This is utter folly, especially since Plant Juice has proved its ability to cure a disordered stomach and has demonstrated that it can relieve the most obstinate cases of long-standing stomach, liver and kidney trouble. This fact is being demonstrated every day by the mass of signed testimonials pouring in from people who have given Plant Juice a fair trial and have been benefited. For instance, the signed testimonial of Mr. Ernest Hundert, who resides at No. 824 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., states:

"For years I had suffered with bladder trouble and my eyesight got so bad that I was almost blind. I had tried different treatments and medicines but did not get any relief. My wife read about Plant Juice in the daily papers, and what it was doing for others to relieve suffering. I thought I would give it a trial and have now used one bottle and am getting better every day. My eyesight is much better than it was and I am not troubled with my bladder. I am glad to recommend Plant Juice to every one."

Plant Juice is sold in Waco at the Old Corner Drug Store.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

The court also may decide the Reading and Lehigh so-called "coal trust" cases, the disposition of the German prize ship Appana, the legality of several state workmen's compensation laws, Oregon's women's minimum wage and men's ten-hour day laws and several cases affecting rights of labor unions and their members.

Hearing will begin tomorrow of a dozen important cases on a docket especially advanced for argument, including the so-called harvester, steel and shoe machinery "trust" suits, the Oregon-California land case and Rhode Island and West Virginia election fraud prosecutions.

"Pape's Diaphepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—of an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diaphepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis when caused by acidity has made it famous the world over.

Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diaphepsin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

AMERICA INAUGURATED WOODROW WILSON ITS PRESIDENT YESTERDAY IN A

Wilson Takes Oath of His Office While Country Is on Verge of War

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 5.—Woodrow Wilson with the major part of the world at war and America poised on its verge, consecrated his second inauguration as president of the United States today with a last message of hope for peace.

Standing in the shadows of the nation's capitol the president renewed his pledge to the constitution, and gave a message of peace to the American people.

While trumpets blared and martial accompaniments rattled prophetically about him, the president pictured the deep wrongs the United States patiently had borne in the conflict of other peoples without wishing to wrong or to injure in return. Asserting that the tragedies of any continent had removed provincialism and made Americans citizens of the world and that the principles of this republic should be applied to a liberation of mankind, he resolutely voiced a determination that America standing "firm in armed neutrality" must demonstrate her claim to a "minimum of right and freedom of action" in world affairs.

Interest Works Assertion.
Peculiar interest and significance in the light of his rebuke last night to senators who prevented the passage of the armed neutrality bill, were attached to the president's assertion of this point. Even more interest and concern were aroused when he added: "We may even be drawn on by circumstances, not by our own purpose of desire, to a more active assertion of our rights and we see them and a more immediate association with the great struggle itself. But nothing will alter our thought or our purpose. We desire neither conquest nor advantage. We wish nothing that can be had only at the cost of another people. We have always professed unselfish purpose and we covet the opportunity to prove that our professions are sincere."

No Time for Retrospect.

Making no attempt to review the legislative record of the last four years the president said that this was no time for retrospect. The time was one to speak of thoughts and purposes for the immediate future. To be indifferent to the influence of the war upon America or independent of it, he said was impossible and he was firm in the conviction that the part this country wished to play in the vital turmoil was the part of those "who mean to vindicate and fortify peace."

These were the dominant thoughts of the president as he addressed the cheering multitude in the broad plaza of the capitol grounds. In the assemblage before him American citizens of all nations had sung "America" with a mighty voice while waiting for his appearance on the inaugural stand. In the mighty procession which followed him to the white house and passed in review "a composite and cosmopolitan" people gave evidence of loyalty and patriotism.

Banners Unfurled.

"We are American citizens," flared from banners borne by once alien bands. "We are ready to fight and die for America," was the stirring message blazing from a standard waving over the heads of new American citizens from Poland. Men of many foreign ancestries held to the breeze as they marched past the chief executive other insignia of patriotic Americanism and the words, "America First" on countless streamers aroused the throngs along Washington's broad Inaugural March Proves Patriots Still Lead U. S.

Marching Host of 3000 People Pass
In Review Before Inaugural Stand
When President Wilson
Takes Oath

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The inaugural parade today was more than a mere procession as part of the ceremonies; it was a patriotic demonstration.

As the marching host of some 30,000 tramped from the capitol to the white house before thousands of Americans the martial music and unmistakable note of national patriotism recalled to many the days of more than fifty years ago when the federal armies marched in review over the same route.

The nation's fighting men, men who have fought the nation's wars and men who will be called to fight them in the future—all were represented in the long line. Resplendent in gold and blue and grey, they marched in review before the president. Army, navy, national guard; cavalry, infantry, sailors, soldiers, marines; veterans of the Civil war, Boy Scouts and Red Cross workers; all branches, past, present and prospective, of military service and many thousands of citizens were represented in the line.

Pennsylvania avenue was massed with people on each side of the marching column. Great reviewing stands had been placed at every vantage point along the line. Windows framed groups of spectators, and thousands more had places in balconies and on the housetops. Between these walls of humanity, marched the army of inauguration, to the confused mixture of many noises—bugles blowing, bands playing, the rumble of artillery, the clatter of horses' hoofs and the steady tramp of marchers.

Followed the President.

The procession moved at the close of the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol, swinging into line behind President Wilson and Vice President Marshall as they returned to the white house, and took their places to review the column.

The chief officers and divisions of the parade were as follows:
Grand marshal, Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott.

First Grand Division—Soldiers, sailors and marines of the regular service under command of Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss.

Second Grand Division—National guardsmen and cadet schools under command of Brig. Gen. William A. Mann.

Third Grand Division—Veterans of the Civil war and the war with Spain, and patriotic societies. Headed this division were the Grand Army men, a corporal's guard by comparison with the thousands of their fellows who have marched over the way in years gone by. They echoed their service in the words on the banner behind which they marched, "Ready Again for Any Duty."

Political Organizations.
The fourth division, composed of civic and political organizations, was probably the most numerous and diverse of all. Among the Indian marchers was a delegation from the reservation at St. Francis, S. D., headed by Henry Hollow Horn Bear, son of the chief whose likeness adorns the most recent issue of 45 treasury notes. Eight hundred women employees of the bureau of engraving and printing, in distinctive garb; women footed on horseback, in automobiles; women bands, women on floats; democratic women workers, Western, Southern and Eastern women, marching, as one leader said, "not as wax dolls, but as political warriors," all were in the long line.

A feature of this division was the mounted squadron of Virginia women who escorted Mrs. James H. Boggs of the Wilson Women's union, a member of the inaugural committee.

Tammany hall sent 2,000 "braves" and a delegation of real "Indians," the former in distinctive dress, the latter in full tribal regalia. The Essex County Democratic club came in "full dress," 400 strong, from New Jersey, the president's home state. Other notable organizations in line were the Moses Green club of Louisville and the Duckworth club of Cincinnati.

Of the many governors who rode in the procession, some were with the military organizations of their states and others, with their staffs, were in the fourth division. In this division also were the mayors of numerous towns and cities, dozens of political clubs from smaller cities near and far. From the Court of Honor, at the white house, the president reviewed the line. The musical censor had seen to it that the bands played varied airs, their tendency past, eliminating any tendency to other inaugurations when passing the reviewing stand to confine their selections to one of three airs, "Hail to the Chief," "Dixie" and "Marching Through Georgia." Past the president, the marchers continued a few blocks and there disbanded.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S NEWEST PHOTOGRAPH

Woodrow Wilson.

PERSONAL VIEWS OF WOODROW WILSON DIVULGE CHARACTER

WHITE HOUSE ATTACHES REGARD HIM AS SYSTEMATIC AND TIME SAVING EXECUTIVE.

Washington, March 5.—Oldest attaches of the white house regard President Wilson as the most methodical, systematic, time-saving chief executive within their memories.

From the very first of his administration, the Mexican difficulties and the European war have added immeasurably to the duties of the president, but he has managed to maintain a strict schedule for his working hours; he never has been known through personal fault to be late with an engagement and has religiously conserved his time.

A white house caller, booked for a five minute interview with many a president often got an hour. If one arranges a five minute interview with Mr. Wilson, one gets exactly five minutes—no more—and the way is cleared for the next caller.

Although during his first administration the president took no real vacation, he managed to maintain a regular program of physical recreation necessary to conserve his health. He never has been out of touch with the nation's business. When at the summer white house at Cornish, N. H., or Long Branch, N. J., a staff of secretaries was close at hand. All during his first term the president was not away from the white house more than two weeks at a time on trips traveling about the country and he never has gone further west than Topeka, Kansas.

Friends of Mr. Wilson say he dislikes the idea of going into the country, but enjoys himself when he does go.

Life a Natural One.

Many word pictures of the president at work and at play have been written, but those closest to him say that his every day life is a natural one for a man who never has been wealthy and has grown up in an atmosphere of regularity and natural living.

Mr. Wilson does many things personally that could easily be done for him by others. Frequently he walks from the executive offices to the white house to get a book or letter when he could more easily press a button and have someone bring it to him. His liking for directness of action explains why on more than one occasion he has walked to different government departments to see cabinet members instead of summoning them to the white house. He has never allowed precedent to interfere with the course he thought the most direct.

The time the president's working day begins depends upon the season of the year. Ordinarily, in winter he gets up between 7 and 7:30 o'clock, but summer he usually arises earlier—sometimes at 5 or 5:30. He believes in daylight saving whenever possible. When he first came to the white house he attended to most of his official work in the morning, and played golf in the afternoon, but this winter he reversed his program and played golf in the warm morning hours, and worked in the afternoon. He goes golfing either with Mrs. Wilson and Dr. Grayson soon after breakfast, and works his mail from noon to 1 o'clock. In the afternoon he sees callers and signs official papers, except on Tuesdays and Fridays, when the cabinet meets. Ordinarily an hour on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons is set aside for the reception of members of congress.

His Characteristics.

After dinner, generally about 7 o'clock, the president does not work unless it is absolutely necessary. He either reads, plays billiards, or goes to a theatre. Detective stories, poems, and autobiographies are his favorite literature. It is more or less of an open secret that his preference is for thrilling old time detective stories. Often he gathers his family about him and reads poems. Frequently he steals away to a gallery to view some paintings.

The president's insistence on promptness contrasts with the more or less carefree habits of some of his predecessors. When the cabinet meets the president's advisers are frequently early, but are seldom late.

He is 60 Years Old.

The president, now sixty years old, is very healthy, and his only weaknesses are of the stomach and eyes. Because of attacks of indigestion he is more or less on a diet most of the time, but is as regular in his meals as in all his other habits.

Society has no charms for Mr. Wilson and for society with a capital S he has a positive aversion. On more than one occasion his failure to hide his feelings has been noticeable. He avoids all social functions whenever possible.

As a breaker of precedent Mr. Wilson set official Washington agape even before he came into office by announcing that he did not desire the usual inaugural ball. He followed that by declining membership in some so-called exclusive clubs which always had claimed the membership of presidents.

One of his first acts was to greatly decrease the number of army and navy officers assigned to the white house as aides, until less than a half dozen remained. Mr. Wilson abolished the motorcycle guard which used to surround the president's car when he went out on the streets, saying he wished to go about just as any other citizen.

Revived Speaking Custom.
When he began the custom of delivering his addresses to congress in person he revived a custom which had died with Washington and Adams.

WOODROW WILSON IS 28TH OF PRESIDENTS

THIS RECKONS CLEVELAND'S
TERM AS SEPARATE SINCE
SERVED NOT IN SUCCESSION.

By Associated Press.

Woodrow Wilson is the twenty-eighth president of the United States, reckoning Cleveland's two terms as separate ones because he was the only president serving twice who was not re-elected.

Virginia leads in the nativity of presidents. Eight of her sons—Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor and Wilson—have held the highest office in the gift of the nation.

Ohio has given six native sons to the presidency. They were Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley and Taft.

Of all the vocations in life the law has furnished most presidents. Nineteen chief executives of the United States were lawyers at the time they were elected. Three are classified as statesmen, two as soldiers, two as farmers, one as a public official.

Seventeen presidents have been college men, one was graduated from West Point, nine had no collegiate education.

English paternal ancestry has predominated among all the presidents. Fifteen were of English extraction. Six were Scotch-Irish, three were Scotch, two were Dutch, one was Welsh.

The youngest president, at the time of inauguration, was Roosevelt, who was 46. The oldest was William Henry Harrison, who was 68.

Of all the presidents, John Adams lived to the oldest age. He was 90 when he died.

ENORMOUS SUM ACCRUES FROM
PURCHASE OF VANTAGE POINTS
BY WHICH TO VIEW PARADE.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—It is estimated that more than $200,000 was spent for seats from which to view the inaugural procession. Provision had been made for seating 50,000 persons along the line of March in specially constructed grand stands. Many thousands of others took places in windows, on roofs, in trees, perched on poles and various other points of vantage. More than 2,000,000 feet of lumber were used for the construction of stands which were occupied only a few hours.

Seats were sold to the public on all the reviewing stands except the president's stand in front of the white house and the official stand at the capitol, on which the inaugural ceremonies took place.

Employees of the various executive departments banded together to erect the stands in front of the various public buildings, in order that they might have the preference of buying seats upon them, and the seats remaining were snapped up at general sales at prices ranging from $1 to $5, according to location. Heltered windows and balconies of hotels and private buildings have brought much higher prices. Rooms fronting on Pennsylvania avenue with windows commanding a view of the procession have brought as high as $100 each.

BLAZE OF COLOR AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

HISTORY OF U. S. A. PRESIDENTS SHOWS MANY SECOND TERMS

WOODROW WILSON THE TENTH TO HAVE SERVED TWO CONSECUTIVE TERMS.

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 5.—Woodrow Wilson is the tenth president to be elected for a second term. The other nine were Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Cleveland and McKinley.

Thomas Riley Marshall is the first vice president to be inaugurated a second time since the present system of party conventions came into use. Actually he is the fourth man to hold the office a second time.

John Adams was twice elected vice president to serve with George Washington; Daniel D. Tompkins served through two terms with President Monroe. John C. Calhoun was twice elected vice president on a ticket with John Quincy Adams and served until his resignation near the end of his second term in 1832.

March 4 has fallen on Sunday three times in an inauguration year. President Monroe, acting on the advice of Chief Justice Marshall, set a precedent and took the oath on Monday, March 5.

Gen. Zachary Taylor followed this precedent when he was inaugurated in 1849. March 4 again fell on a Sunday and he postponed taking the oath until the following Monday.

President Hayes, however, took precautions against any opportunity for charge of irregularity. The final vote of the tribunal which gave to him the high office and thus ended the Tilden-Hayes controversy was announced on Saturday, March 3, 1877. Mr. Hayes at once took the oath in the red room of the white house, General Grant and other notables were present. The oath was administered by Chief Justice Waite.

Washington Set Style.

The form of a president's inaugural was largely devised by George Washington, and like most all his work, has stood the test of time. The ceremony was conceived when the forefathers were in the throes of a great revolution, and they intended it to be distinctively American. Through the lapse of more than a century, virtually no change has been made in the actual ceremonies, although elaborate and beautiful accompaniments have been added.

Washington was inaugurated in New York in 1789 for his first term and traveled from Mount Vernon by horseback and horsedrawn coaches. He crossed streams on eight-oared barges. For his second term Washington was inaugurated in Philadelphia in 1793. The oath of office was administered by Chancellor Livingston and the ceremony was about the same as it is now. The president was driven to the capitol in a handsome coach surrounded by an escort. There was a procession, and at night a display of fireworks.

Once in Philadelphia.

John Adams was inaugurated for his one term in Philadelphia. In the meantime the District of Columbia was created, the capital was named Washington and Thomas Jefferson was elected. He was inaugurated here after a bitter contest in the house of representatives which exercised its constitutional prerogative of choosing the president. Accompanied by a few friends, Jefferson rode to Washington on horseback from Monticello and was escorted into the city by a troop of cavalry. Alone he rode in a carriage to his inauguration at the capitol. Adams, embittered by the controversy in the house, had left the city. Historians say about 1,000 people viewed his inauguration, in contrast to more than 500,000 to see the second inauguration of President Wilson. Washington in those days was almost inaccessible to travelers and inauguration celebrations were held throughout the country in many villages and towns.

The next inauguration—that of President Madison, is said to have been attended by 10,000 people and contemporaneous accounts express the greatest amazement at the size of the crowd.

President Monroe was the first to take his oath of office out of doors on a platform built over the Plaza at the east front of the capitol as is now the custom. He had intended to take the oath in the hall of the house, but the senate claimed the honor. A wrangle followed and a compromise was made by which the ceremony was conducted in the open air. It is recorded that while Monroe was taking the oath, American eagles, birds now practically extinct, flew majestically over the dome of the capitol.

A Precedent Upset.

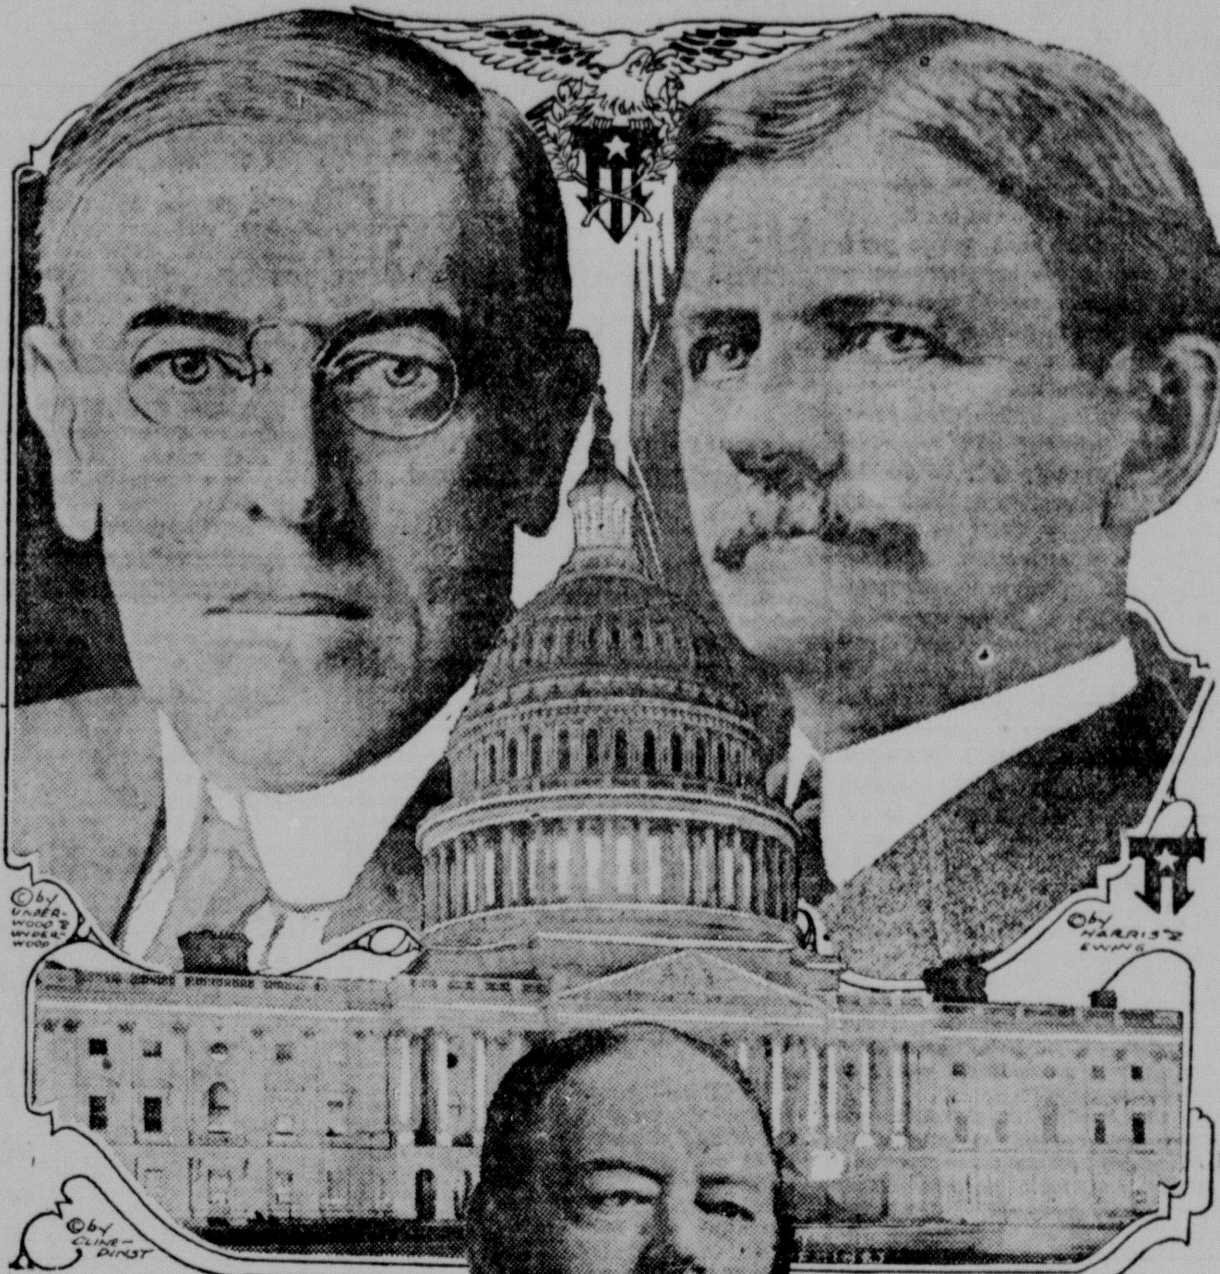

John Quincy Adams was not inaugurated on March 4, because another election contest in the house postponed the ceremony until late that month. When finally held, it was the most elaborate ceremony of its kind.

The inauguration of Andrew Jackson in 1829 probably would have been even more elaborate had not the incoming president been in mourning for his wife. He rode to the capitol in a carriage constructed from the hull of the great old frigate Constitution. It was an elaborate ceremony, nevertheless. In comparison with present-day inaugurals Daniel Webster's comment is interesting. He said:

"Never has such a crowd been seen here before. There must have been fully 8,000 people along the line of march. Persons came 500 miles to see the president inaugurated."

Crowds kept on growing, however, as the country expanded, and it is said

President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall, Who Were Inaugurated Yesterday in Blaze of Display

President Van Buren's inauguration

was attended by some 20,000 people. Citizen soldiery participated in such ceremonies for the first time at the inauguration of William Henry Harrison. He rode to the capitol in a coach presented by Whigs of Baltimore and the inaugural procession took on the appearance of a pageant. Harrison had been elected on a protective tariff platform and floats bearing looms and other machinery illustrative of the growing American industries were shown in the procession. Harrison died after having held office little more than a month and Tyler succeeded. He took the oath privately without ceremony or display of any kind while the country was in mourning.

Open Air for Polk.

President Polk appears to have been the first to feel the discomforts of being inaugurated in open air in a vigorous spring blizzard. The weather was execrable, and the ceremonies were conducted with difficulty. Polk was fond of display, but his tastes were not military. His inaugural procession is said to have been rather a mixed affair of military and civilian bodies as are the processions of today. Members of his cabinet and the clergy of the capital marched in it.

President Taylor's inauguration was the first to fall on March 5. He was a military man and the ceremonies were the most resplendent up to that time. Millard Fillmore, who became president through the death of Taylor, succeeded to the office without ceremony of any kind, although he took the oath before congress.

Pierce and Buchanan were inaugurated with usual ceremonies. Lincoln's first inauguration was notable in many respects. The country, on the verge of civil war, trembled with mixed emotions. Lincoln's friends were filled with apprehension for his safety. For the first time in American inaugurals troops were ordered to the capitol, not alone for participation in the ceremonies, but for protection of the president. Lincoln himself expressed no fears for his safety, but his friends took every precaution. Probably one single incident more than any other served to hold feeling in check. When Lincoln delivered his inaugural address in the open air at the capitol his rival in the greatest campaign up to that time—Stephen A. Douglas—stood at Lincoln's side and held his hat. Lincoln's second inauguration reflected the great civil war in which the country was locked. The induction of Andrew Jackson into office after Lincoln's assassination was conducted in a room in a hotel without ostentation of any kind.

Spectacular for Grant.

Grant came into office with the greatest spectacular display seen up to that time. It was almost entirely a military demonstration as might be expected from the fact that the country was doing honor to the general who had led the victorious armies of the McKinley had a beautiful day for his ride to the capitol in the same carriage with Grant. The second inauguration of Grant fell on one of the coldest days ever known in the capital. Many organizations declined to march in the parade and some persons who did died of the exposure.

President Hayes was surrounded with elaborate precautions for his personal safety, because of the intense feeling engendered by the celebrated controversy with Tilden. His inauguration day fell on a Sunday. He took one oath on the preceding Saturday and another at public ceremonies the following Monday.

Garfield's inauguration was without unusual incident except in the senate chamber, where General Hancock, the unsuccessful democratic candidate, was one of the first men to grasp his rival's hand.

President Arthur, in succeeding the martyred Garfield, took the oath of Grover Cleveland's first inauguration reflected the steady growth of interest among the American people in seeing their presidents take office and the event was more elaborate than any of its predecessors. The weather was perfect, the crowd was immense and the ceremonies were elaborate.

Weather Again Bad.
Harrison was not so fortunate with the weather for his inaugural ceremonies. A driving rain fell all day. He delivered his address sheltered by an umbrella held by one of his Civil war comrades. The weather, however, did not deter his escort from marching in the inaugural procession. It was the Seventeenth Indiana volunteer infantry, which Harrison had commanded in the Civil war.

When Cleveland returned for a second term he, too, encountered bad weather, and the agitation for moving inauguration day forward into the safer weeks of late spring received an impetus which, however, soon died away. Slush, inches deep, covered the city and thousands of people felt discomforts.

McKinley had a beautiful day for first inauguration, but a rainy one for his second. When Roosevelt assumed the presidency after the assassination of McKinley, he took the oath of office without ceremony in the home of Anselmy Wilcox in Buffalo, N. Y.

Roosevelt's inauguration to his elected term brought a new standard for a great demonstration. It is estimated that more than 100,000 persons were crowded on the Plaza before the inaugural stand and that hundreds of thousands thronged the city.

'TIS RAILROAD WEEK, TOO.

THIS is railroad week for Waco, as well as Spring Style week.

The good wife glimpsing the latest in frocks and hats has murderous designs on our pocketbooks. And as usual we are willing that she will have her way.

But Waco, also, must have clothes. Those who have been extremely durable, but she continues to grow. She needs outlets to the east and southeast—to the rich farming and lumber districts of East Texas, and to the shortest route to the seaboard.

The most substantial citizens of Beaumont and Waco are pledged to push through the Waco-Beaumont railroad. Representatives from three possible routes will be in Waco March 8 to present their claims and bid for the line. With careful organization and persistent work this road can almost be regarded as a certainty.

The extension of the Rusk-Palestine state railroad to Waco is more problematical. The difficulties of organization, in the bonding of the present mileage, in the rivalry of Dallas, make its building a matter of delicate handling. The News believes Waco is the logical point for the proposed extension in that Dallas already has an almost direct line to Palestine and because the next ten years of railroad development in Texas must be in the building of east and west trunk lines. The News believes the Y. M. B. L. should watch the state railroad extension bill's progress very carefully. At the proper time all the pressure of every organization and influence in the city and the country between Palestine and Waco should be massed before the legislature.

BELOW PAR.

THE News does not care to pass upon the matter in dispute between the governor and those who would impeach him. Many of the impeachment items appear trivial in themselves, but in the aggregate they at least indict the governor for lack of tact in handling his job. It is this lack of tact that reached its climax when the governor lost his temper and called a Texas representative a "nigger." By using such a term in a fit of anger on the floor of the house he lowers the high standard Texas should demand in the head of the commonwealth.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

(Dallas Times-Herald.)
 The German nation has tremendous reserve strength. A prediction that Germany's resistance to the allies is about to collapse is a very chancy prediction.

Still, a prediction of that sort might be offered now with some little hope that it would not blow up, and its unhappy builder with it.

The food shortage in Germany is now a very serious matter. Even so law-abiding a people as the Germans have been cannot stand it indefinitely. There is reason to think that supplies of other sorts, quite as necessary to the conduct of war as food, are equally short.

The German retreat in France and the Turkish defeat in Mesopotamia sound very much like a weakening in the tension of the German defenses.

(Fort Worth Record.)

Texas lawmakers, members of the lower house, should get down to business. They are the servants of the people. They are expected to carry out the wishes of the people. By a majority of 2,700 the democrats of Texas instructed their lawmakers to submit to the people the prohibition amendment. The amendment should be submitted and then business measures, other platform demands and the appropriation bills should be taken up and passed. Jones pays the freight. Jones believes in business methods and intelligent action. Jones ordered the legislators to submit. The people are the masters and the majority should rule.

SECRET SERVICE IN NABbing KOLB MAY UNEARTH HUGE PLOT

BELIEVE THEY HAVE FRUSTRATED INTRIGUE TO BLOW UP U. S. MUNITION PLANTS.

By Associated Press

Hoboken, N. J., March 5.—With the arrest here today of Fritz Kolb, a German, the authorities expressed the belief that they had frustrated a well developed plot to aid Germany by blowing up munition plants in this country engaged in turning out contracts for the entente allies. The police said they found in Kolb's room two bombs which, according to rumors, were to be sent to President Wilson. After a preliminary investigation, however, they announced a conviction that the plans of the alleged plotters had to do entirely with destroying war supplies, and no attack on the president's life was contemplated.

May Solve "Big Tom."

The police also said they had information which might help in solving the Black Tom, N. J., explosion and the destruction of the Kingsland, N. J., plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry company, in which large munition supplies for the entente allies were blown up.

"We are following leads which may result in additional arrests at any time," Chief Hays declared. "We are co-operating with the New York police and the neutral squad of the collector of the port of New York. All of us have been working on this for several weeks."

Caught in Hotel.

Kolb was found in a small hotel opposite the pier of the Hamburg-American line. His room, it was asserted, apparently had been used as a laboratory. Besides the bombs, the police said they found brass and copper tubing resembling that used in ships. The bombs were made of this material. A flash of black powder, bottles containing gasoline, benzine and alcohol; tools, trinitrotoluol and black disc powder. Experts from the New York detective bureau said they believed the disc powder was similar to some used in Germany.

The bombs, the experts declared, were of a new type and indicated ingenuity and skill.

Denies Any Plot.

Kolb denied any connection with making the bombs, but said, according to the police, that his room was used for that purpose by a man he knew only as "Karl." He declared he did not know the man's present whereabouts.

Kolb was born in Cologne, Germany, he said, and came to this country shortly after the war began. He also made several trips between this country and Mexico, he said, but not recently.

Kolb admitted he is a druggist and had sought positions in chemical houses. He gave his age as 33.

HOOKED UP WITH GERMANS.

El Paso, Tex., March 5.—Fritz Kolb, the German reservist arrested in Hoboken, N. J., in connection with an alleged plot to bomb munition works is believed here to be the man of that name who in 1915 was associated here with E. F. Haagsmar, a German reserve officer, who acted as military observer with President Huerta's forces in Mexico in 1914. Kolb then was known to have some connection with the German government.

WHY EVERYBODY SHOULD TAKE McCROSKEY'S TONIC FOR RHEUMATISM.

It is a kidney and blood medicine, and will counteract the uric acid and remove it from the system and purify the blood, and that is the only sure cure for rheumatism. Liniments will give momentary relief, but will not cure. If you are suffering from pain in this case, and I do not care if you have had rheumatism for years, and tried every treatment known and tried Hot Springs, Ark., for several months and it has failed, will guarantee that one dozen bottles will cure every case, unless it is where the joints are drawn out of shape; and there have been lots of cases cured with from two to six bottles. So call on your druggist and if he will not get it for you, send direct to me and I will ship any amount you want. One large bottle, $1.00; twelve bottles, $10.00. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Read this in regard to indigestion and stomach troubles: There is a natural acid in your stomach, which is called hydrochloric acid, and when that is gone you always suffer with your stomach. Your food will not digest, and your liver will not act. By taking McCroskey's Tonic after each meal it makes your food digest and builds up your system and causes your stomach to retain the hydrochloric acid. Call on your druggist, and if he has not got it, and will not order it for you, send to me for it. Price $1.00 per bottle. McCroskey's Tonic is made in Waco, sold everywhere. CABINET TO DECIDE WITH WILSON ON FURTHER WAR ACTION

LEGALITY OF FUTURE PROCEDURE ASKED OF ATTORNEY GENERAL.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 5.—Further action by President Wilson in the German situation was postponed today, pending a decision by his legal advisers as to whether he has power to arm American merchantmen in spite of the failure of congress to pass a resolution conferring such authority.

The question was referred to Attorney General Gregory and Secretary Lansing and probably will be decided in time for consideration at tomorrow's cabinet meeting—the first to be held in the new administration.

A determination to arm merchantmen if a legal way to do so can be found was generally apparent. The president has placed squarely before the senate the responsibility for changing its rules during the special session begun today so that filibustering by a small group of senators cannot prevent action by congress. Meanwhile, he is preparing to take such steps as he can to meet the crisis and defend American rights. In his inaugural address today he declared, "We stand firm in armed neutrality," and added:

"We may even be drawn on, by circumstances, not by our own purpose or desire to a more active assertion of our rights as we see them and a more immediate association with the great struggle itself."

While the arming of merchantmen is the step most considered, it is pointed out that the president has the right to convoy American vessels. This course has been opposed by the navy department, however, principally for strategical reasons.

Another step suggested, is that the shipping board take over American merchantmen, arm them as a naval auxiliaries and send them abroad.

The president has been inclined to believe that certain old statutes still in force might prevent him from furnishing guns to merchantmen, but some of his advisers hold that a broader and truer interpretation of these laws show that they have no application to the present situation.

Another name was added today to the list of senators who signed a manifesto in the closing hours of the session, declaring they favored the armed neutrality bill and would have voted for it if given the opportunity. Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island, telegraphed asking that his name be affixed, making seventy-six signers.

NEW STYLES AS SEEN IN WACO

Shoes and Hosiery

FOUR boots are typical of the season, with a rather astonishing uniformity as to price in all leading houses. Simplicity of style and color are the keynotes of the spring styles, the favorites being all white, buck, kid and rein-skin, grey, pearl and silver, oyster white or ivory. The prices are appreciably lower than scare-heads on the shoe situation have led us to believe they would be, and all women can afford to have beautifully clad feet.

The Goldstein-Migel company is featuring white, grey and ivory boots, with black, white kid and silver grey pumps, which are going to be very good a little later. Long, pencil-like lines distinguish all shoes, pumps and boots alike, with Louis heels. The Goldstein-Migel head salesman thinks that the day of the extremely high boot is over, the average height being eight and a half inches.

Mr. Miller of Miller-Cross, mentioned the aluminum plate as the distinctive feature of the new heels, which are all of the Louis model for afternoon and dress occasions. Sanger Brothers' shoeman showed an attractive line of the favorite white, grey and ivory, putting into the lime-light several very pretty pump models, one with the beaded toe.

The W. & C. company showed a big variety of boots and pumps, making white boots and ivory boots their leaders. Other boots were black and white, dark brown, oyster white, grey boots and a grey and oyster combination. Pumps in all the leading shades and an unusual combination or two completed the display.

White and brown combination boots, patent and bronze headed pumps, and plain kids in both black and white were the offering of the Famous to the shoe parade.

The Walk-Over Boot shop is striking a strong note on sport shoes, their windows showing several new models, such as the rubber washboard sole with low heel and medium height top, the new rein-skin, both in boots and pumps, and even in sport shoes. A good golf shoe in yellow calf was shown among other sport Oxfords.

Segall's window contains white sport shoes and dress boots in different shades of brown and white and ivory pumps.

Department stores shoe ad specialty shops are showing new lines of fantastic hosiery, in clocked patterns, checks, horizontal stripes, and solid patterns in all the leading colors, chartreuse, shannon rose, shadow lawn, gold, sage, emerald and the highly popular greys. As the shoes are more simpler, fashion has decreed that the hose should gain in gorgeousness of color and design.

deft blue, Chartreuse and geranium rose.

Sanger Brothers' window represents an Egyptian garden, with griffins, bird cages, parrots and rose trellises.

The window contained among other costumes, a striking gown in the new Shadow Lawn Georgette, with oriental metal embroidery, made on the long loose lines in the new silhouette. An unusual afternoon frock of white marquisette was embroidered in silver over satin, with a touch of French blue. A beautiful model of the Moyne Age silhouette brought out the newest hip features, the bodice being collarless and heavily embroidered with white beads in intricate designs. The peculiar geranium rose was shown in a Georgette frock of this color, fantastically embroidered in crystal beads.

In the Goldstein-Migel window, the color scheme of which was purple and gold, with gold-colored roses in profusion, the modish dress of grey chiffon showed to striking advantage. Beaded net combined with gold lace was made into a charming evening gown, forming a pleasing contrast to the demure pink net with blue touches. A very sophisticated model was created out of black net, cream lace and an oriental embroidered loose belt.

Wonderfully colorful silks occupied one window of the Goldstein-Migel company's display, showing Yo San in the green and gold, a taffeta with yellow satin stripe, purple and gold striped Yo San, and purple crepe de chine.

The Graham-Jarrell window was spring-like in peach blossoms and rose vines clambering over trellises. Fitting into this spring effect was a shell-pink frock suit with oriental etched designs, showing the fetching Paisley revival in fabrics was a sand taffeta with Paisley bandings in chiffon. The hat to match was shell pink with oriental clusters of fruit. An afternoon frock combined delicate shades of pink, green and turquoise blue, with turquoise maline hat to match. A very pretty dress of gold Georgette crepe embroidered with pearl colored beads and wool thread in green and brown. The silk window was filled with billowy heaps of delicately colored marquisettes and taffetas.

One of the Famous windows was devoted to afternoon frocks and accessories, which showed charmingly against a background of cream and gold, with red full bloom roses and climbing roses on trellises. There were two very attractive afternoon frocks, one of gold, with gold embroidery, waist cord and swinging cord touched with blue embroidery; the other a chartreuse Georgette crepe embroidered in conventional design with touch of white crepe. Another Famous window showed new silks, one of pink and white wide stripes. Embroidered net flouncings accompanied the silk display.

Patton's windows were profusely decorated with apple blossoms, ferns and palms, against a soft grey velour wall. The most colorful dress in the window was a youthful empire model of changeable lavender and grey silk chiffon taffeta, with a girle of a wonderful new color called orchid. The bodice was of Nile green net over pink Georgette with French roses. Another very attractive frock was of beige Georgette embroidered in deft blue silk thread with tassels and velvet band of the deft blue at the waist, the double skirt being outlined with French knots. An odd black and orange frock attracted instant attention, the black and orange being carried into the horsehair sailor.

The Sachs Specialty company had several attractive afternoon frocks, among them a crepe meteor and Georgette combination in the new Shannon Rose.

The W. T. Farley window featured street clothes exclusively, with taffeta dresses, skirts and waists and several good models of spring sport coats.

Electric apparatus has been invented by a Swiss that employs magnetism to pack nails in boxes in regular layers and thus save about half the space required when they are placed loosely in kegs.

The Millinery

FULLY as charming as the delightful new frocks are the dress hats for afternoon wear which are featuring all the new colors—chartreuse, olive, shadow lawn, Shannon rose—and employing wherever possible dainty touches of oriental embroidery in metal and silks. Big hats, little hats and medium-sized hats; white hats, colorful hats, fantastic hats, severe hats, straw hats, maline hats; lace straws, georgette brims, any color, any size, any shape! The leading colors are of course considered most modish at present, but it is safe to say that any color is good and all colors are good.

One of the Sanger hats was of lisere braid with burnt goose ornament and facing of maline. The transparent brim is still in evidence, showing in a Sanger hat of pink and blue faced with maline, and trimmed with pink roses and French blue. The Sachs Specialty company showed a pretty hat in silver gray with turquoise edging, the distinctive feature being horsehair braid. A Graham-Jarrell model was of turquoise maline with collapsible crown, with Tuscan braid and throat-latch of turquoise. Another hat in this window was a leghorn, with rose and chartreuse streamers and rose clusters.

Mrs. Pickens' display in collaboration with Patten's frocks was distinctive in several features. The new khaki-kool was shown in two hats, one a combination of white and shadow lawn green, and the other in a wide-brim hat with big red and green polka dots and tassels. A large pink straw was teamed with pink maline, in a strange contrast with the quaint little poke bonnet in blue which was nearby.

The Famous struck a note of simplicity and tailored correctness in their hats, most of the models shown being stiff of brim and scant of trimming. A large black stiff straw was faced with blue crepe, while another black was trimmed in chartreuse. One charming dress hat was shown in white and rose geranium-colored crepe.

A Goldstein-Migel Kurzman model was of blue lace over black maline, the crown being solid with small flowers of all colors. The hat was finished with a velvet bow at the back. A Gage hat in the same window was a stiff model in Milan straw of smoke gray with single wing across the front. A model in chartreuse straw with green blue georgette was very attractive.

TO LAUNCH FLOWER GARDEN CONTESTS AT NEXT MEETING

ROTARIANS HOLD SESSION YESTERDAY—PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR NEXT WEEK.

Launching the flower garden contest for the entire city thereby signaling the general interest felt in this movement, there will be held Monday night, at the rose room of the Hotel Raleigh a banquet of the Rotarians and their ladies. This announcement was made by Chairman B. B. Cobb of the flower garden contest committee, at the weekly meeting of the Rotarians yesterday.

C. P. Link, chairman of the entertainment committee, promises an evening of unusual enjoyment. The event will be of signal importance. J. P. Everett, chairman of the municipal flag committee, was authorized to buy 5,000 flags 18x24 inches, and 100 of the flags which are 2x3 feet will be here today. These are nearly all spoken for already. A flag day will be arranged for at a later date, and will enlist the support of the whole city.

A. J. Peterson was toastmaster at yesterday's meeting. Dr. Carl Lovelace presented the thought for the day.

The chief speaker was Dr. C. J. Atkinson of New York, secretary of the Boys' Club federation. He dwelt upon the worth of a boy, as an economic proposition first, and showed that even on that plane the boy was worth much if saved to the community. He elaborated his subject, and urged working towards preventing the boy from going wrong, rather than be forced to try and reclaim him after he was well started on the downward path. A vote of sympathy for Rev. E. E. Ingram and members of the Central Presbyterian church, in the loss of their church building, was extended and Rev. Mr. Ingram responded, saying that a building costing $20,000 to $25,000 would take its place.

The Coming Baby

Every help that will tend to aid the expectant mother and foster the well-being of the tiny infant should be promptly rendered.

The time before childbirth is one of much discomfort. This is caused in a large measure by the tightening and straining of the abdominal tissues, as well as the network of cords, ligaments and muscles in that part of the body.

For many years thousands of women have successfully used the preparation known as "Mother's Friend." It is safe and dependable to be used by every prospective mother. A famous physician formulated the preparation. "Mother's Friend" is for external use, and is composed of special oils and other ingredients which have a penetrating and softening effect. Relief from much of the pain at the crisis is found.

Any woman awaiting childbirth should secure a bottle of "Mother's Friend" from her druggist, when the abdomen first begins to expand. No time should be lost in beginning its use. Apply it night and morning without fail. Address: Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. B, 240 Atlanta, Ga., for valuable guide book; it is free.

Dramatic Recital.

Quite the interesting program was rendered yesterday afternoon at Carroll Chapel by members of Miss Thompson's expression classes in Baylor university.

The program, which included two readings and a short one-act play, "The Wrong Package," deserves much favorable criticism from a dramatic standpoint. Miss Ethel Viles, reading an amusing selection, "Mud Pies," is indeed the pleasing reader, and brought out clearly the various characteristics of those whom she personated. Miss Orian Smith, reading "Farming," shows rare ability both in voice and facial expression.

However, it is the clever little playlet, "The Wrong Package," that the dramatic ability of Miss Thompson's pupils is revealed. The plot of the story deals with two boarding school girls, one with a severe case of mumps and both endeavoring by the aid of a sympathetic maid to smuggle a box of candy to their room. All goes well until a mistake is made in the delivery of the package, and in the place of nice bon bons, the girls receive quinine and capsules. The matron then makes her appearance, and for a whole the atmosphere is clouded—but an imaginary mouse wins the day for the girls and also the candy.

Dallas Honors Mrs. J. B. Sherwood of Chicago.

The following article was clipped from the Dallas News and is a report of the brilliant reception tendered Mrs. Sherwood on Saturday by the Dallas Art association.

In this connection it will be remembered that the Waco Art league owes its existence to Mrs. Sherwood and she was elected permanent honorary president, for that reason at its first meeting.

The whole state of Texas, and Waco in particular, owes Mrs. Sherwood a debt they never can pay, for she was the pioneer in bringing the gospel of beauty in nature and in art to out attention and awakened us to the need of artistic surroundings in the home, better architecture in our public buildings, and pride in beautifying streets and parks.

Mrs. Sherwood has not only stirred Waco to a love of art but she has generously given many pictures and decorated several rooms in our public schools which stand as a monument to her unselfish devotion to the cause she has championed for so many years.

To bring joy into life by means of an appreciation of the best and highest in art has been a self imposed task which in its far-reaching influence exceeds whatever this faithful worker dared to dream.

Art Association Reception.

"The Dallas Art association entertained with a reception and musicale yesterday afternoon in the public art gallery at Fair park, honoring Mrs. J. B. Sherwood, lecturer and art critic of Chicago. In connection with the entertainment the association placed on exhibition a collection of oil sketches by a Dallas artist, G. E. Gude.

In his sketches Mr. Gude used local objects as his subjects, including in the group displayed views of the Union Depot, St. Matthew's Cathedral, Mount Vernon, the residence of Edgar L. Flippen, and the residences of A. D. R. Collier and H. L. Edwards. These sketches will be on exhibition on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday of the coming week.

"Mrs. Sherwood make a brief talk after the program, in which she commended the growth of the art gallery and criticized the new pictures. She said the public art gallery is the most important asset of the city of Dallas and the pictures in the Dallas art gallery are as good as those hung in any other art gallery in the country. Mrs. Sherwood will be at the Adolphus all of this week.

"About 150 visitors attended the reception and musicale."

Concerning Texans in Washington City.

Decidedly the note of greatest interest though at the same time a matter of great regret, among Texas folk in Washington is that the week marked the return of those very charming Texans, Mr. and Mrs. Cone Johnson, to their home in Tyler. Mrs. Johnson, very handsome, widely informed and possessed of distinctive social graces has, through her three years' Washington residence, become one of the most popular women in official life and contributed a very generous share to the maintenance of Texas' reputation for having a colony of more worthwhile and handsome women than are gathered at the capital from any other state. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Johnson received at the

Brighton and the affair was one of the biggest receptions of the winter. For three hours the great reception room was crowded. Mrs. Johnson, wearing a gown of white charmeuse, draped over a petticoat of silver lace and with the upper portion of the bodice of silver lace and tulle, received alone, but at the tea table, in the center of which was a long plaque of white lilacs, white hyacinths, pink snap dragons and yellow jonquils resting on a bed of maiden-hair fern, a number of interesting women alternated in serving. Among these were Mrs. Lansing, wife of the secretary of state; Mrs. Thomas Watt Gregory, Mrs. A. S. If Food Disagrees Drink Hot Water

When food lies like lead in your stomach and you have that uncomfortable bloated feeling and your stomach is sour and burning it is usually because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach combined with acid and food fermentation.

In such a case the best and safest treatment you can possibly use is to take a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesium in half a glass of water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bisulphated magnesium, as physicians can tell you, is a powerful but harmless antacid which quickly neutralizes the excess acid, sweetens your stomach contents and stops food fermentation.

This hot water and magnesium treatment is a far better plan than allowing some pill or tablet which simply artificially digests your food and sends it still a sour, fermenting acid mass into the intestines where it will do almost as much harm as in the stomach. As there are various forms of magnesium be sure in following above directions to ask the druggist for Bisulphated Magnesia (either in powder or tablet form) which is especially prepared for correction of stomach acidity.

Try this simple plan of using Bisulphated Magnesia after meals to prevent food fermentation and to neutralize stomach acidity. You will be astonished at the immediate relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion.

Getting Acquainted With Waco Work Starts on New Lumber Yard

Work began yesterday on buildings and sheds in East Waco for a big lumber yard to be erected by William Cameron and company, incorporated.

The yards will be located at the southeast corner of Elm and Spring streets on ground bought from Dr. J. H. Harvey through T. J. Primm.

The main buildings will be constructed of what is known as brick siding. It was announced that the new yard was made necessary by the increased business of the firm and in order to accommodate that section of the city and county. This company owns between fifty-five and sixty lumber yards in Texas and Oklahoma. Business will begin in the new yards just as soon as the buildings and sheds can be completed.

In the new yard will be kept a complete line of building material, such as lumber, paint, paper, varnishes, cement, lime, brick, shingles, builders' hardware and in fact everything that enters into a modern building.

MRS. ADAMS SEES FIRST WELL DAY IN FOUR LONG YEARS

"I OWE MY RECOVERY TO TAN-LAC, AND IT'S CERTAINLY A BLESSING TO FEEL AS WELL AS I DO NOW," SAYS THIS WACO WOMAN.

"I am now enjoying better health than I have any time in many years and I owe my recovery to nothing but the good work of Tanlac," said Mrs. A. A. Adams, 512 Cleveland street, a few days ago.

"I suffered from nervous indigestion and stomach trouble for four years," Mrs. Adams continued, "and during all that time I never knew what it was to have a well day. For months I had neuralgia of the head so bad I thought I would go distracted and at the same time I felt like my back would break it ached so bad. I also had the rheumatism in my right hip and on down into my foot so bad I was miserable all the time and often I would just have to give up and go to bed. I was as nervous as a rat in a trap and some nights I would lay awake and toss and roll all night long.

"I have taken two bottles of Tanlac and I tell you I feel like a new woman out and out. Those awful headaches and rheumatic pains are not about gone, but entirely gone, and it's not a question of a better appetite, it's being able to eat enough to satisfy me. Why, I just feel like eating up everything and my backache has left me completely. My nerves are so quiet I can sleep all night just like a child and as I have already said I feel better than I have in many years. It certainly is a blessing to be able to eat hearty, sleep good and feel well like I do now and I feel like telling everybody what Tanlac has done for me."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole body. In other words it relieves rheumatism and other constitutional troubles by removing the cause, Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and contains certain ingredients which purify the blood and renovate the entire system. Next, it enables the stomach to thoroughly digest its food, thereby permitting the assimilable products to be converted into blood, bone and muscle.

Tanlac is sold in Waco by Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store, under the personal direction of the special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

Hirschberg on Second Trip to New York City

Sol Hirschberg of the Goldstein-Miguel company leaves tomorrow for another business trip to New York. It has only been about three weeks since Mr. Hirschberg was in the metropolis.

"I hardly have time to get acclimated before I am on the move again, and it is a big change in weather conditions between Waco and New York," said Mr. Hirschberg last night. He will be absent about three weeks on the present trip.

GOVERNMENT AIDS IN FLOOD CONTROL

DELEGATES TO SAN ANTONIO MEETING TELL OF PLANS FOR CONSERVATION IN TEXAS.

If the constitutional amendment to be voted on August 21 in Texas carries, the Washington government will put up two dollars for every one dollar spent in Texas in trying to prevent floods in the rivers of the state, according to dispatches from national headquarters of the flood prevention committee of congress.

President W. W. Seley and Secretary James Hays Quarles of the Texas Reclamation and Conservation association returned yesterday morning from the meeting of the association in San Antonio. They both were elated over the outlook for the amendment, but a campaign for education of the people will be conducted.

The campaign committee, of which Messrs. Seley and Quarles are a part, will meet often between now and the election. The first meeting of this committee will be held in Dallas some time next week.

More than $2000 was subscribed at the San Antonio meeting for the campaign of education for the amendment. Secretary Quarles has been delegated to look after much of the work for the press.

Business Men Agreeing to Decorate for Camp

Home Folks. What Texas People Say

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the herbal remedy which has had such a fine reputation for the past forty years, is indorsed by many well known residents of Texas. Every day more and more people are coming to realize that this is a standard medicine, and is safe to take. It contains no alcohol or narcotics. The ingredients are printed on the package. It is to be had at every drug store in the land in either liquid or tablet form.

Mr. W. J. Johnson, residing at 407 Conrad street, Palestine, Texas, says: "I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with good results, and would recommend it to friends that need a blood tonic."

"My children were all run-down in health and 'Golden Medical Discovery' helped them."

Mr. W. E. McQueen of Longview, Texas, Route 5, Box 59, says: "I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and found great benefit from the same. I can recommend it to all suffering humanity. It is just as good now as fifty years ago."

Mr. T. J. Allen of Seagoville, Texas, says: "I wish to state to those who may have rheumatism that I am 45 years old and have had rheumatism most all of my life. In executing my duties as a peace officer of this state in the winter of 1910, I was exposed to some very severe weather, which brought on a very severe attack, in fact, it was so bad that I could not ride horseback and was compelled to abandon my duties for awhile. I then began a search for a permanent cure, which I did not find until I learned of Dr. Pierce's Anuric. Began taking these tablets about ten months ago and am satisfied that I am cured. I wish to say in conclusion that I cannot be loud enough in my praise of Anuric."

Simply ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. Every package of Anuric is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the ever-famous friend to ailing women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, proven by years to be the greatest general reconstructer.

IT SURE COSTS LOT OF MONEY TO GIVE JUSTICE

UNCLE SAM HAS PAID ONE WITNESS $414 SO FAR AND HE HASN'T SAID A WORD.

One witness in the case of Tom Parker, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Joe B. White of Waco, has cost the government $414 in coming from Montana to testify in the case, and has not yet had a chance to say a word.

The witness is R. P. Poynor. He has been required to make two trips from his far-away home, only to find that the case was to be postponed. It cost $207 for each trip, as the government paid railroad fare both ways, necessary expenses and a reasonable per diem. The delays in the case were unavoidable, and the incident is mentioned only to show that it costs a lot of money to administer justice.

The case was continued yesterday on application of the government, owing to serious illness of government witnesses, one of whom, Mrs. Gregg Lawson of Waco, was an eye witness to the shooting on the post-office steps March 17, 1915. A sister of Joe B. White, Mrs. Baker of San Antonio, who has lost her husband and two children by death, could not come, as her only remaining child is ill with measles. Mrs. Lawson is in a Waco sanitarium suffering from pneumonia. The case was called by United States Judge Duval West yesterday morning. The case is one of considerable interest here. Parker and White were brothers-in-law, White having married Miss Parker. Yesterday's continuance marked the fourth continuance since the case was taken up.

OCCE RESIDENT DIES.
Mrs. Leta Chastine of Occe died yesterday, aged 70 years. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Crawford, interment at the Crawford cemetery. Mrs. Chastine had been a resident of Occe for about fifteen years. She is survived by her husband and five sons.

WOMEN WHO FADE EARLY

How often we hear the expression, "How she has faded!" or "Hasn't she grown old?" Her friends see it. Her husband sees it. She realizes it herself with a pang. Often she knows the reason, some female derangement has fastened itself upon her and makes it almost impossible for her to drag around from day to day. Such women should remember there is one tried and true remedy for their condition, and that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for more than forty years has been restoring women to health and happiness. Try it!

Country Merchants Just "Filling In" Says Waco Wholesaler Yesterday

Country merchants are as a rule well stocked up on flour and canned goods, up on it was that late in the fall flour was going up rapidly, and they thought it better to buy enough to hedge against a big rise. In this manner most of them bought enough to supply needs for some time ahead.

"Canned goods which were bought for fall delivery were delayed by the freight congestion, and hence most of the country stores have large stocks of the tinned articles. A country store which has plenty of flour and canned goods is therefore in a position to just fill in as occasion may demand on other lines.

"Business is good, however, and there is a general feeling that the war soon will be over, giving business a more settled and definite aspect and making buying more general and generous."

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

IF PEEVISH, FEVERISH AND SICK, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a tea-spoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

NAVS OFF AGAIN
RED KUHN OUT
WITH OLD TOOTER

PRACTICE IS ON FOR WACO TEAM.
MANY STRANGERS IN THE NEW LINE-UP.

Oh, boy! The Navs are off again. Red Kuhn got out the old whistle, called her up, said "Come on, fellows" and snow and northern and 20-mile gales with seven different kinds of whistles on 'em didn't have any effect on the Texas league champs yesterday. The Big Skipper had scheduled 10 o'clock in the morning of March 5 for the first 1917 workout—so at 10 o'clock some twenty young hopefuls and old hopefuls put on the old uniforms and trotted out like a bunch of colts that have been kept up for a few weeks.

Some Strangers.
You know sumpin'? It isn't a bad idea at all to pick a good chilly day for the first workout. It puts pep in 'em. They just naturally have to work hard to keep warm—and then afterwards, when the old Texas sun gets to popping thermometers around the hundred and seven point, they've got to keep workin' to retain their reputation. It looked like a strange bunch who wandered in and got behind a post where the Big Skipper couldn't see him was heard to wonder what had become of all the Navs who won two straight pennants for Waco. Only five of 'em were out yesterday—Eddie Donalds, Red Kuhn, Harvey Grubb, Buddie Tanner and Big Boy Leslie, the tall youngster who beat Fred Wohlleben out of his job. These five were the sole representatives of the old guards. The others were youngsters without an exception—lads from Waco and the surrounding bushes, with a sprinkling of promising young half-seasoned boys who have had more or less league experience.

Take Warming Up.
Some batting practice was indulged in yesterday, a brisk warm-up with ball and glove and the workouts finished with a sharp game of soccer football with ten men on a side. This form of training is a favorite with the Big Skipper—and it must be good dope, for his teams always get started early and keep going late and this, after all, is the goal of all training methods. As for the missing old-timers, some question seems to surround one Maimquist. Mal is always coy around the gladsome spring. It has been said he cultivates a few hundred acres of Nebraska wheat and at the prices breadstuffs have been bringing lately, it is reasonable to suppose that Mal wants to stick around the old farm until he can see the crop getting away to a good start. The Skipper thinks Mal will be around all right.

Conwell Signs.
Conwell has signed his contract and is expected most any old time now. This fact certainly takes off all worry about the infield, for with Grubb, Conwell, Tanner and Leslie on the job the inner defenses are taken care of beyond any accident. The outfield? Well, the fans mustn't ask too many questions about the outfield just yet. Jesse James is the only veteran who will be here, as every fan

With Giants

Special to the News.
Marlin, March 5.—With only Charley Herzog missing from the infield the team that will make McGraw's next bid for a championship get in action for their first time this season at Emerson park today. Herzog arrived tonight from St. Petersburg, Fla., where he spent the winter bathing in the gulf and making airplane flights. An aviation school is located there and Herzog has been taking lessons and learned to manipulate an airplane. There is an aviation school here and McGraw has requested Herzog to stay on the ground while in Marlin. A five-inning game was staged this morning at Emerson park. Lohert and Schaefer captained the teams. McGraw pitched for the Loberts and won the game 8 to 2.

Benny Kauff ripped off two home runs and a three bagger out of three times up off Schaefer. Benny is doing some wonderful hitting and expects to equal his federal league batting record this season. The rookies will get out an hour earlier tomorrow so McGraw can give the regulars his undivided attention.

Perritt Here Soon.

Poli Perritt is expected in most any time. Donalds looks just the same as he ever did—the same old "confidence" that has done so much to bring blue flags to Katy Park. One youngster who looks good is Faxon, who tried out last year with Beaumont, but who was crowded out by a large and capable surplus of veterans. Davenport's longest thing in the way of a pitcher seen in this league since Miles Main trained in Santone with Detroit several years ago. Davenport is seven or eight feet high and not very fat. Also he's a cousin or brother or sumpin' of Dave Davenport's. Cap Ledy always contended he had the makin' of a great pitcher if he ever got off to a good season.

Secret Practice.

For a few days practice will be secret. It's this way, as explained by the Big Skipper, and he knows: "I like to wait a few days before the fans are allowed the privilege of the grandstand on account of the young pitchers. Before they are conditioned there always is danger of the fans riding them until they cut loose and blow up their arms. I've often noticed that the youngsters obey orders to take it slow much better when they are first working to an audience. Take it slow is my greatest rule during the first week, especially with the young pitchers. After that the park will be open twice a day." There's a lot of truth in that dope, after all, isn't there? With either a Rutenber or a Continental motor—it's a Marlon-Handley Ward & Phillips Motor Co.—Adv.

THEATRES

ORPHEUM.

Vaudeville and Pictures.
Four vaudeville acts, none standing out more prominent than the others but all being of the splendid variety that has been presented on the Orpheum theatre circuit, were played here yesterday and will be the bill for the Orpheum today and tomorrow. The acts are Dixie and La Rose, two stylish stompers; Murray and Manning, comedy singing and talking; Hamleys Fashion Review, fashions of today, and Armstrong, Downey and Armstrong, comedy bicycle novelty. The motion picture production on this program is "Twin Kiddies," in which is featured Baby Marie Osborn, child star of the movies. Beginning with the program change of Thursday, the William Fox release, "The Darling of Paris," starring Theda Bara, known as the vampire of the motion picture world, will be presented.

AUDITORIUM.

"Grumpy."

In years, no attraction more welcome to the theatre-goers of this city than the noted English actor, Cyril Maude and "Grumpy" has been announced by the management of the Auditorium theatre. This rare combination is scheduled for Saturday beginning with matinee.

Our public has long anticipated a visit from Mr. Maude, whose splendid record of achievement on the English and American stage is well known locally. Some of the most important theatrical successes of the past twenty years in London were scored by Mr. Maude, whose wonderful versatility, as a character actor has permitted him to create a wide range of parts. His earlier triumphs were gained at the Haymarket theatre, and during the seven years that he was the sole manager of the famous Playhouse in London he appeared in a series of plays that found particular favor with English theatre patrons. Mr. Maude has now been in America for three years, with the exception of a between-season presentation of "Grumpy" at the New Theatre, London, and during that period has confined his appearances almost entirely to his famous role of the octogenarian English K. C.

The star of "The Last of the Inghrams," showing at the Hippodrome today only, is the popular Triangle player, William H. Desmond. Desmond is an Irishman, full-blooded, and is a total abstainer. This fact was the cause of much trouble in the making of this new play, for in the character of a wild village youth and ne'er-do-well, he was called upon to exhibit bibulous habits in such a way that the camera would be absolutely fooled. In one hundred and thirty-seven scenes of the script, Desmond

MARKET NEWS AND REPORTS

PRONOUNCED STRENGTH
DEVELOPES IN PORTION OF MONDAY'S MARKET

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, March 5.—During a portion of today's session pronounced strength was shown by cotton markets both in spot and future departments and the general trend was upward. In the early trading the tone was unsettled over the turn taken by affairs in congress and later, following stiff rises, realizing of profits by holders of long contracts caused reactions from the advance. The market derived its strength chiefly from the growing demand for the spot cotton, but also was affected by the unsatisfactory conditions surrounding the starting of the new crop. Highest prices for the day were at a net gain of 33 to 44 points. The close was 13 to 20 points up net. The freezing weather in Texas which bulls declared wiped out young cotton, and the heavy rains and overflows in the eastern belt, following excessive moisture complaints for several weeks past, put new crop conditions in an unfavorable light.

WACO MARKETS.

FURTHER PRICE ADVANCE
IN MONDAY'S MARKET
QUOTE 5 ABOVE FORMER

By Associated Press.

New York, March 5.—There was a further advance in the cotton market today, with contracts selling up to 17.98 or 5 points above the closing prices of Saturday. Reactions following under realizing with that delivery closing at 17.77 and the general list steady at a net advance of 38 points. The market opened firm at an advance of 12 to 14 points over Sunday on buying orders and in response to firm cables. The unsettled political situation indicated by the early advices from Washington seemed to cause more or less confusion around the ring. After the sharp advances of last week, this resulted in considerable realizing and there probably was some local selling for a reaction. Prices soon eased off to about Saturday's closing, but offers were very well absorbed, largely by the buying of southern and local spot house brokers on a scale down. This soon checked the decline. Reports of further delays in eastern belt farm work in consequence of wet weather and of large spot sales in the south a stiff basis encouraged the buying movement and before midday active months were selling 25 to 50 points higher. May contracts showed an advance of practically 5 1/2c per pound from the level touched on the break in February, while old crop movements generally showed advances of over 1 1/2c per pound in the last week. The general list showed reactions of 12 to 23 points from the best.

The Value of a Pair of Glasses

Lies wholly in the accurate grinding of the lenses and the trustworthy knowledge of the optometrist who prescribes them.

This being a fact, who are you to trust when your eyes are calling for glasses? Don't you believe that the eyesight specialist who is constantly specializing in optometrical work should not be better equipped to diagnose and prescribe glasses for you than the "jack of all trades?"

At the Exclusive Optical Store you have the advantage of two specialists (which means better service to those in need of glasses). One diagnoses and prescribes while the other grinds the lenses as per prescription.

INTRODUCING SPRING FASHIONS

Sanger's

Our Formal Spring Opening Today and Tomorrow

With the greatest collection of styles and fancies of Dame Fashion ready for your inspection in all sections of the store, our Formal Opening and Style Show takes place today and tomorrow. Gladden's Orchestra will furnish the opening music.

This will be the official coming-out party of the new season. It will be an event of Fashion. The initial and authentic display of the complete assemblage of styles in Women's and Misses' apparel and the materials from which to fashion apparel, as well as the new styles in accessories of dress and things for the home—every department of the store will take part in the Formal Opening.

Miss Springtime will occupy the place of honor in the receiving line. She will be more attractively beautiful than ever before, and she will wear the smartest of the new fashions.

Beautiful Silks, Wool Dress Goods and Wash Goods Add to the Beauty of the Fashion Show ON THE THIRD FLOOR

Thousands of yards of Fairly Painted Silks and Dress Goods and Wash Fabrics. Never have we shown such beautiful variety, nor so many exclusive novelties. This Spring season seems to have bloomed superabundantly with new ideas in exquisite fabrics. The fabrics are extravagantly rich in design, and the colors have taken all the brilliance of the Spring shades for their very own. And with all their magnificence you will find these materials have that most desirable feature of practicability.

Regardless of Outside Weather Conditions You'll Find the Warmth and Beauty of Spring Inside the Sanger Store And the Interurban and All Street Cars Come Direct to Our Door

We do not know what the weather will be outside. We hope it will be real genuine Springtime weather, but even if it is not, you'll find the interior of the Sanger Store just as comfortable and Springlike as the balmiest Spring day. The interior decorations carry out the beautiful green of Spring with an elaborate color scheme that invades every section of the store, and these features, linked with the charming merchandise of the season, will portray the warmth and comfort of Spring regardless of what the weather may be out of doors. You can come direct to the Sanger Store on the Interurban or any Waco Street Car, and once you are here you will find enough that is new and interesting to keep you busy inspecting and admiring for hours.

Spring Millinery

From the Ateliers of Paris and American
Fashion Centers as Well

The marvelous ingenuity of the Parisian designers is almost beyond belief. And this new season brings models inspired by some of the guiding geni that seems to urge and suggest variety hitherto undreamed of. The most exquisite effects in almost numberless forms. The Millinery that is to be revealed here is to be seen and not heard about to be fully appreciated. We may venture, however, that you will be more than delighted, for never before has it been our good fortune to present so beautiful a collection of Hats.

We Invite You to Come and Inspect at Your Leisure the Season's Newest Styles

Our Men's Department Presents the
New in Men's Apparel

The Sanger Annex is accessible either from the Fourth Street entrance or the Main Aisle through a special passageway from the Main Store. Here you will find the newest and latest styles in Men's apparel.

Our Policy, "The Public Be Pleased"

Our Window Displays Alone Are An
Unequaled Feature

The displays in our windows, unveiled last night, gave some idea of the brilliancy that is to be a part of our still more elaborate Fashion Show inside. The windows alone have proved to be an unequalled feature.
